VOL- 30......NO. 10,247 Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class

WORLD UPTOWN OFFICE - 1267 BROADWAY, be-Sween 31st and 32d sta., New York,

Department: 150 East 125TH ST. advertisement at 237 East 125TH ST. PHILADELPHIA, PA-LEDGER BULLDERG, 112 SOUTH ST. WASHING TON-GIO 14TH ST.

345,468

WORLDS PER DAY. Unimpeachable - Testimony⊩

MAT 7TH, 1889. ATTER a thorough examination of the Circulation of Heeds, Press and Mail Room Reports, and Newsort desbers' Accounts of the NEW YORR WORLD, also the receipted bills from various Paper Companies which supply the NEW YORK WORLD, as well as the indorsed checks given in payment thereter, we are convinced, and sectify, that there were Printed and Actually Circulated during the month of March, 1888, a total of TRE MILLION SEVER HUNDRED AND TWENTY (19.702 A20) HOMPLETE COPIES OF "THE WORLD."

Manager of the New York Clearing-House. O. D. BALDWIN.

Prosident of the American Loan and Trust Co. THOS. I. JAMES.
President of the Lincoln National Bank.

A SIMPLE PROBLEM: 81)10,709,520(345,468

ENTREP NO. PLANT THE 345, 46

SPRING PARTY CIRCULATE 345,87

WHERE CARE IS NEEDED.

Repeated collisions in East River and the Sound prove the existence of gross negligence among navigators on these waters. There are laws, well established, governing water travel. Every waterman, almost every knigshoreman, is supposed to know them, to may nothing of men whose business is piloting. What excuse or explanation can there be, then, of the carelessness of Fail River pilots, who twice last week suffered the monster steamers of that line to come into collision with other craft?

They surely know their business; they sught to be made to attend to it. The Sound and River waters are always crowded with boats of all sorts. The precautions against accident should be proportionately increased. Masters of pleasure boats, too, should be made to conform to the regulations, which they do not now.

Enforce these laws and make it safe for man to take his feet off Manhattan. It is hardly so at present.

A WORK WELL DONE.

The record of THE EVENING WORLD'S WORK during the past two months among the poor sick children of New York, 18 worthy of careful reading. The labor was not only a good one, but a great one as well. Besides the 7,000 children who were supplied with food and clothing, the Eventso Wonlp's Medical Corps treated 1,400 more cases of sickness than the corps maintained by the city Health Board, although it had six men less than the Health Board corps.

The figures can give no notion of the infinite detail attending such an accomplishment, or the thorough, ofttimes difficult and sometimes firuitless investigation made of sach case.

It was a great work, a labor of love. THE EVENING WORLD is proud to have been the agent in it. In behalf of thousands of the sick and suffering little ones of New York it thanks all the kind-hearted ones who contributed to the undertaking.

BRODIE'S WEAK PAKE.

THE EVENING WORLD wishes to emphasize the fact that it alone of all the afternoon prints refused to indorse the preposterous story of STEVE BRODIE's alleged journey over Niagara Falis.

Everybody believes now that it was a fake puss and simple, in which this arch-hunter for cheap notoriety was helped and egged on by men who knew better, and ought to have been in bigger business.

Such flabby, transparent effort at a giant deception of the public makes it easy to believe that BRODIE has not done half the crazy feats he boasts of.

No one cares whether he does them or not. And if he had gone over Niagara instead of sending a dummy over, it would have been one less "fakir," whom the world would never have missed.

STILL ANOTHER.

It is a year of record-breaking, and no misfake. On all the race-tracks the fast figures which have stood untouched for years have been sent tumbling down headlong. Yesterday, A. MEFFERT, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, swam a mile with fifteen turns and best Time at every turn mve one. The 110-yard record he did not lower. Mayrgar and the City of Paris share the honor new of being the fastest things

It is a comfort to hear Mayor GRANT talk about the World's Fair. He says New York is sure to have it, and from depths of absointo information he fishes up this reassuring

I can cay this positively: The World Fair

give us a plan that will be perfectly satisfactory

TURN SOME OF YOUR "GRAPHS" ON THIS. Entson condems unsparingly the pictures in the Louvre, because they are old. This is an old world, too, Mr. Engon, and if we could see all there is in it, we might admire it even more and get more delight out of it than we do. Won't that apply to pictures, as well?

ROBERT RAY HAMILTON has been pitied as the blind victim of sharpers. His name has been dragged through a mire of publicity from which few men could issue with credit as has he. But blood, that ephemeral something of which many prate, seems to have really "told" in him.

He may have been a dupe. He never was a coward. He goes out branded as a gullible man, but bearing as well the stamp of an honest, honorable and manly one.

JACK DEMPSEY is avoiding acquaintances on his way home "because," sa he says, "I hate to be making excuses for that little sur prise on the coast,"

Well, Jack, if it was only a "little" surprise to you it was a big and costly one to your multitudinous friends, who would be gladder and richer if you had apprised them of the state of your mind. No wonder you are shy. But what is the use of making excuses. Meet it like the man you used to be,

Mr. GLADSTONE said yesterday:

I have come over to Paris for a special purpose. I have come in order to show good will and respect to France.

Maybe that war in Europe is more remote than young WILHELM thinks. Such an utterance recalls by contrast the savage old song ; When the French come over We'll meet 'em at Dover. The meanest Trust yet, if it isn't the biggest, is the Brick Trust that has sat itself down upon Seattle and raised from $9 to $20 the price of the brick which must needs be had to rebuild the fire-stricken town.

Some one asserts that the greatest of gas wells has just been struck at Sandusky, O. Don't you believe it till you have heard Chicago talking about gobbling up the World's Fair.

A morning paper calls Sullivan " Boston's candidate for Congress." So far he seems to be just JOHN L. SULLIVAN'S candidate.

FANCIES.

All's "fair" in Chicago just now.

Pretty women are wearing single eye-glasse in London, and they squint at you just too charmingly for anything.

Ben Harrison, his biographers say, was a "young man of great promise." Some hundreds of thousands of unsatisfied officehunters believe it.

Here's a chance for the Prohibitionist. In the ast ten years the consumption of alcohol has doubled in France.

Incidentally the Japanese are more on beefeating than they were. In 1885, 30,000 head of cattle were slaughtered for food. Last year 200,000 head were killed.

Lady—A French doll, please.
Shopman—What size, madam?
Lady—Oh, one suitable for this little girl.
Shopman—Mr. Saunders, come and measure this young lady for a doll,—Harper's Young Propte.

Never try to make any one believe anything they don't want to. It is harder than eating soup with a fork. matter of duels. Lots of talk and little blood.

Luther Knotts, of West Virginia, while hunting on Friday used a turkey caller. Young Moses Libscomb responded and was promptly shot and killed.

Up in the parlor the young folks sat:
With each hour their words grew sweeter,
While her father grim.
With a lantern dim.
Sat down in the cellar and swore with vim
As he watched every skip of the meter.

— Washington Capital.

The captain of a leaking sand sloop on the Harlem River yesterday, to save his vessel from sinking, hired a dozen Italians to shovel off some of the sand, and a bright policeman locked up all hands for violating the Sunday law.

Rival matrimonial agencies are having a lively time in Louisville just now and have cut rates remendously. At present the fee is $4, with chances of more reductions. Here's an unneus chance for bachelors and spinsters.

WORLDLINGS.

The original cost of the right of way of the Mount Washington incline railroad—a road that has proved to be a gold mine to its owners—was Dougherty County, Ga., has just been pur-chased by a New York indy for $14,000. The farm comprises 400 acres of the finest land in the cotton belt of the South, and before the war was valued at $100,000.

Gen. Albert Pike, the head of all the Masonic orders in this country, is now eighty years old. The little King of Spain is just three years old. He is in splendid health, is bright and active, and gives promise of becoming a fine man.

OFF THE STAGE.

Senorita Carmencita, the dancer, dresses very quietly in the street. She generally wears a plush coat that has seen better days, a black satin dress and a large, coarse, white straw Gainsborough.

Amelia Somerville wears black only. She has iscovered that for ladies with a tendency to mbonpoint black is the only justifiable hue, and t is but recently that Miss Somerville overcame

Miss Lillian Russell's flat is a very handsomely furnished one. Miss Russell spends a great deal of time at home. She lives very quietly with her child and two or three servants.

Denman Thompson in private life dresses very much like the people whem the wily ones love to buneo. His black clothes have a distinctly pastoral cut. He wears a big gleaming diamond in

A Bitterness Between Them. [Fram the Burlington Pres Press.] Travis -- Why do you shun Miss K.'s society so persistently. De Smith? Is there any bit-terness between you?

De Smith—Yes, she is trying to teach me to est olives. mittee on Finance at a very early date wil MONELL's Tearning Complaines are not possible while 19,602 People Relieved by Medicine, Food and Clothing.

159,740 Families Visited by the Corps of Free Physicians.

President Wilson and Dr. Wagle Praise "The Evening World's" Work.

Very Favorable Comparison with the Health Board's Work.

Mr. Charles G. Wilson, President of the Board of Health, was averaging the report of the Sanitary Department for an official statistie when I asked for his opinion of Tux EVENING WORLD corps of free physicians.

"To talk about the subject is to praise, said he. "The work was an enterprise of charity and good. More than that it was excellent, for the reason that the medical corps provided to look after the sick children was large as well as efficient.

"From the start we felt the power and presence of THE EVENING WORLD physicians. They helped wonderfully in reducing the death rate, averting disease, relieving suffering, circulating excursion tickets and medical advice, in calling attention to defective sanitation and in proving the great need of constant work among the poor classes.

"Every humanitarian recognized the value of the relief, in the shape of food and clothing, provided by the readers of THE EVENING WonLD and distributed by the corps. The expressions of sympathy, especially on the part of the children, for their unfortunate little brothern and sisters, were to me very tender and sweet.

"As I said before, we realized the aid of THE EVENING WORLD'S staff ; we regarded it as a supplement to our own labor, and we fully appreciate the good results and are glad of the privileges of congratulation.

"We are entitled by law to the services o special Summer corps of fifty physicians for the sanitary and medical improvement of the condition of the poor. The Commissioners thought forty a sufficient number for the work, and with the unexpected and invaluable service rendered by the thirty-five Even-ING WORLD doctors the results are not only surprising but gratifying as well. "To qualify the facts here are some figures you might submit to your readers, and when to the totals you add those on the summary sheet of THE EVENING WORLD'S COTOS, YOU will understand why the Board of Health regards THE EVENING WORLD'S medical staff as a supplement. REALTH BOARD FIGURES. 761 2.115% 5.056 207 1.602 511 3.003 2.032 ESTIMATED POPULATION, 1888.

DEATH BATE TO EVERY 1,000. DEATH BATE TO EVERY 1,000. "THE EVENING WORLD'S" REPORT. Number houses visited.
Sumber families visited.
Sumber families visited.
Sumber stoke transed.
Health circulars distributed.
Health circulars distributed.
H. John Guild tickets.
Number hours of service.
Diarrheal diseases.
Miscellaneous.

The comparison shows that with six men less than the Board of Health, the medical corps of THE EVENING WORLD, in the months of July and August, treated over 1,400 more cases of sickness than the Health Board's corps, though the ground they covered in number of houses and families was less. In estimating the work accomplished by THE EVENING WORLD Corps credit must also be given for the 7,645 cases relieved by clothing, food, money, &c. Each case thus relieved by members of the corps was thoroughly investigated; the statements of the people not alone being accepted as proof, but were substantiated by inquiry made of their landlords, housekeepers and the neighboring families. Thus each case of relief occupied fully as much if not more, time than a case of sickness. Dr. Nagle, Deputy Registrar of Vital Statistics, was particularly interested in THE EVENING WORLD'S good work among the sick children, inasmuch as the corps included some personal friends who had passed the civil-service examination on brilliant aver-

"I read all the articles and reports that were published, encouraged would be contributors to subscribe to the fund, and had various opportunities of knowing something about the carnestness and enthusiasm of the

"There is no question whatever as to the good accomplished by the visiting physicians, for the mortality was reduced a month after the work becan, and the total for the season will show a very material reduction over that of last Summer.

Notwithstanding the varying condition of the weather, which while humid was less fatal to health than a high temperature, there were 160 less deaths among shildren under five years of age than there were last Sum mer, and the improvement is largely due to the intelligence, the vigilance and the size of the assisting Evrning World Corps.

"Both staffs were put in the field early, and both were prophylactical, so to speak, in their treatment. "We sanitarians have large faith in the powers of prevention, in cleantiness, dietetics and medical advice. THE EVENING WORLD people showed their windom in the prodigal distribution of excursion tickets and rules for the care of infants. These directions were printed in $5. Prepared only by U. I. HOUD & CO., Lewell, Mass

What the poor people most need is adrice, which, when time'y, averts disease and does away with medical neststance. This THE EVENING WORLD doctors aimed to dissemipate, and I am satisfied that the distribution of soap and sponges, the provision of sweet milk and the wholesale confiscation of hurtful nursing bottles has had a very beneficial effect upon the health of the poor babies.

" For instance, a free physician unexpectedly enters a tenement-house and finds an atling child in a fair way of becoming seriously ill. It may seem trifling for him to take a wholesome rubber nupple from his pocket, substitute it for the dangerous nursing tube, give the mother a copy of the rules of bealth and fill out an excursion card for the admission of herself and babe to a floating hospital, but I tell you it is just this sort of medical treatment that is needed during the heated term to keep down the frightful rate of mortality among poor children.

"I regard the work accomplished by THE EVENING WORLD as admirable. I read the articles published with great interest. They were valuable in calling the stiention of the public to the actual workings of the corps, and the great distress of the patients treated.

"I was not surprised at the generous contributions of the people. There is a world of sympathetic impulse in this big city of ours that a proper appeal will always call forth.

"I liked the idea of distributing clothes and delicacies to the babies and children, of buying little shoes and the few coffins needed, and of paying back rent and purchasing groceries for unfortunate parents, for aside from the moral beauty of it all, the remembrance was a God-send to the recipients, who are apt to feel themselves forgotten by fortune and fellow-man.

"I liked, too, the omusion of all names in the articles. It showed a nice regard for the feelings of the people most needing consideration. The poor are very sensitive, and the wounds of pride are often keener than the pangs of poverty.

" The question of a collision of the Health Board and THE EVENING WORLD doctors has been put to me repeatedly, and I tell you what I have told others, that nothing but the most cordial relations exist.

"Dr. Morris, President of the Sanitary Corps, instructed his men to render every ssistance possible to the members of THE EVENING WORLD's staff, and to welcome them to the noble work with the right hand of fraternity.

"In every instance the etiquette of the profession has been impressed upon the visiting physicians which prohibits not only the intrusion of a doctor into the family where another is engaged, but makes an offense of an inquiry regarding the case."

Notes of the Work. Francis E. Fitch.-That $2 made four sick bables crow lustily. The babies enjoyed the money, we enjoyed the crow, and from both sceept an earnest "thank you."

THE CONTRIBUTIONS.

Already acknowledged...... $6,358.55 Albert and Beulah Mamie Bogert and Alice Grannatt... Henry Huggs

Earnest Harlem Workers In the Editor of The Evening World :

The spread of THE EVENING WORLD to assist in earing for the poor struck tender chords of several little Harlemites, namely Isdor Lock Morris Rlumbach and Charles Barron, and through earnest work, asking for pennies here and there, and a boy theatrical performance, 87 cents was raised and forwarded. They were about to make another effort when the announcement was made that no more money was needed, but they desire the 87 cents to go in this season. They think no paper is like THE EVENING Wonld for the people.

HENRY Huucos, 1782 Lexington avenue.

Collected Money and Clothing.

Justice Petterson, who holds courts in the upper and lower portions of Brooklyu, was asked yesterday to supplement his brief address to the Bostonian and give his opinion of the Brooklyn "masher," many specimens of which he has had occasion to deal with.

'I don't want to indulge in general condempation, "said the Justice. "Young men who insult ladies will certainly be accorded what they deserve. It all depends on the character and circumstances, and law mist be tempered with common-sense. My opinion would vary according to the compaint and evidence, said it would be necessary to distinguish the confirmed loafers from others, of copys..."

Capt. Martin Short, of the Fifth Precinct, has been in the Eastern District for over twenty years, almost since the company he served with in the war was disbanded. He has been a most successful official in breaking up corner lounging, and his opinion on the subject, with an account of the pian adopted to break up the practice, was requested.

"We have year expensions in our district." To the Editor of The Buening World My cousin and I have collected $2.68 and some clothing, which we begged where we could not get money. We have a dozen bats, eight pairs of shoes and a large bundle of clothing, which we will send to Dr. Foster. and we hope they will do our poor neighbors good, Yours truly, Mamie Bogent, ALICE GRANNATT. 424 East Seventy-ninth street.

POLITICAL PERSONALS Ex-Register John Reilly is expected to return from his visit to Ireland on the 26th inst. Tammany Hall delegates to the Democratic State Convention will be chosen Sept. 27. The Counties elect theirs one day earlier. Gov Jaw Bone Foraker, of Ohio, has been ing, and his opinion on the subject, with an account of the plan adopted to break up the practice, was requested.

"We have very few complaints in our district now," said Capt. Short. "Justice Nacher backed us in breaking up the corner gangs. They knew, when they would be brought up before him, that influence would not secure their dismissal, and the second time they were brought up they were more sternly dealt with. Justice Nacher has a good memory for faces, and he who offended twice would be sure to be recognized."

"How do you treat these young men who hang around the corners:"

"The officer asks them to move on," said the Captain. "If they refuse, they are arrested, at one time these gangs used to loaf from corner to corner and they moved along the beat before the policemen. It is hard to make them believe that their presence in a crowd is not acceptable to everybody and that the police are not over-officious. The plan in such cases was to send out several officers in citizens clothes and gather them all in. This had a wholesome effect, and the gangs became beautifully less, because they were never certain that the men coming along were not policemen sent out to arrest them. Some good boys, soms of respectable ing place to crime, for you know the old saying. "The devil finds some mischief still for idle hands to do." Boys have their club-frooms and amusements now more than formerly, and these tend to decrease corner lounging." Burcharded. The Rev. Carson did it in a speech at Xenia. He lauded the fire-eating Governor for his enforcement of the liquor laws. The speech is said to have alienated every voter from "over the Rhine." Martin Walsh is an Independant candidate for derman in the Eighteenth District. He is popular and will have a large following, but the Tammany majority in the district is too large to give him any hope of success.

There is hardly a member of the present Board of Aldermen but has a Senatorial "bee in his bonnet." The candidates most mentioned are Aldermen Carlin, Cowie, Divver, Rapp and Walker.

The Successful Easny. (From the Burlingian Free Press.)

Miss Vassarbred-Oh, Emily! I under stand you took the prize offered by the Ladies Magazine for the best essay written by a young lady under thirty?

Miss Homebred—Yes; somehow I got it—I don't know how. Did you compete?
"Yes; I sent them my graduation essay on 'The Budchistic Extinction of Desire.'
What did you write on?"
"How to Knit a Patch in a Stocking.'"

He Was Ton Sensitive. Stranger-Does Prof. Pedal live in this neighborhood?

Jones—No: he has moved away.
"Why did he move?"
"Because the neighbors inquired at his house half a dozen times a day if a piano tuner lived there." FOR $38. One Dollar Weekly Nervous People Who take Hood's Sarsaparilla carnestly declare: "It

We want an energetic person in every office, store, factory, warehouse, railroad and workshop to expain our co-operative system of selling watches on the clob plan. Any endeawake person can readily organize a watch club, as the above price and terms, among his friends, acquaintance or huminese associates, without intervering with his business or occupation. For compensation, details of organization, &c. call or address as below. In addition to the club method of selling our watches we are aise prepared to sell on the measurement plan to reliable parties without extra charge. Inapposition of our stock is solicited, or on receipt of postal card agent will call with samples. and disagreeable feelings in the stomach, ourse head THE MUTUAL WATCH COMPANY, soap and water.

English. German and Italian and proved in the BOYS WINK AT THE GIRLS. WONDERFUL RESEMBLANCE. CHILDREN OF CELESTIALS, hundreds of cases to be the penny's worth of

Do It on the Street.

HOW THE ACT BECOMES ILLEGAL

Corner Launging and Its Alleged Accomlect-Opinions of the Boys and Girls.

From time to time THE WORLD has received many complaints from girls, who say they cannot pass by certain street corners without being insuited by the loungers who gather there. They assert that "fresh young mashers" indulge in silusions that, though complimentary in phrase, are insulting in fact, and not inspired by the regard the young men must entertain for their

On the other hand, there have been complaints received from young men, who assert that the policemen are unnecessarily severe in driving them from the corners, and they claim that as citizens they have the right to stand where they please, and this they argue in spite of the fact that the law has been laid down on several coca sions by the Police Justices. Some young mer assert that girls are unusually sensitive, but the

"We receive more complaints about stree

ounging than about any other nuisance, "said

Deputy Police Commissioner Thomas Farrell. "Scarcely a day passes that several letters are not received complaining about young men standing on corners. The corners on which drug stores, groceries and saloons are located are the favorite haunts of the loungers, and the complaints come often from the storekeepers.

who claim that the practice infures their business. Many anonymous complaints are received from ladies about young fellows who make ungentlemanly remarks while girls are passing.

These young men are often the sons of respectable and wealthy parents, who feel much appoyed

when the police, setting under instructions, omplaints ?" suggested THE WORLD reporter.

Mr. Farrell, "are ignorant of the fact that loading on the corners is a violation of section

25 of article 7 of the city ordinance, which says that 'no person shall encumber or obstruct any street corner or other public place of the city by lounging in or about the same. When the parents learn that the woung men are likely to be arrested and fined, the cause for complaint is often removed, but you will now and then finds

"It may be proper to try to 'mash' young girls in Boston, but it will cost you $5 in Brook-

Justice Petterson, who holds courts in the up

[From Texas Strings.1

Jones was sitting on the front steps of an Austa mausion one night, waiting for his swee heart to come out. She knew what time to come, and Jones didn't wish to ring

the bell for fear of alarming the old folks.

Presently he heard the door open, and the old man muttered something about somebody's being 'too fresh."

'Did you address yourself to me?" asked

Jones, springing up with a flashing eye.

No. "replied the old gentlemen, mildly;
'I was speaking of the paint on the steps. It was put there only this afternoon."

Jones found with dismay that the state-ment was true, and it only required about two minutes for him to reach his room and

$50 GOLD WATCH $50

The arrests made are few compared with the

Sometimes these young men," continued break up the corner gatherings."

official record is with the fair sex every time.

own sisters.

paniments Considered - Commissioner

THE GOLDSMITH TWIN BROTHERS CONFUSE But the Police Will Not Allow Them to EVEN THEIR PARENTS.

> Myer Was Ill One Day and John Was Doctored for Him-John Comes Home After Two Year's Absence and is Greeted by His Mother as Meyer-Many Amusing Mistabes Have Been Made.

In all probability the most startling case of personal resemblance is that which exists between the twin brothers, Meyer and John Farrell, Inspector Mackellar, Justice Goldsmith, sons of Maurice Goldsmith, s Petterson and Capt, Short on the Sub-

THE TWINS. well-known tobacco merchant of 342 East Eightleth street. The record of odd misby intimate triends, owing to their resemblance, is a long one.

Meyer Goldsmith is the bead cutter at the Broadway tailoring establishment of the Jacobs Brothers, and his twin brother, John, Jacobs Brothers, and his twin brother. John, is foreign of a large cigar manufactory at Boston. These twin brothers are twenty-three years of age and were born in this city. John is married and has lived in Boston for about two years. He came home last week without sending any word of his intended visit, and entered the paternal residence about the time that Meyer was due. His good mother greeted John as Meyer, and was a little surprised at an unusual display of affection.

Mrs. John Goldsmith then came forward and dispelled the illusion, and her mothermalaw accepted the laugh," as she had done before on several occasions.

When the twin boys were infants, it is said that Meyer was ill one day, but John had his neck covered with fiannel and was dosed with soothing syrup by his mother, who mistook him for Meyer.

John Goldsmith went down to the Jacobs Brothers' store one day and took his brother

Brothers' store one day and took his brother Meyer's place, working nearly all day before it was discovered that he was John and not Meyer, as the employees in the store pre-

"Friends who know us both well are making mistakes as to our identity nearly every day." said Meyer Goldsmith to an Evening World reporter.

'I have lad persons talk to me in what seemed riddles—matters about which I was not posted—only to find out that they intended their conversation for my brother John. And John has a similar experience."

Music and merry-making closed a very happy greeting to the twin brothers last night. oreen removed, but you will now and then innoven people who insist that the young men should be permitted to stand wherever they please, and it is hard to make them believe their boys are not the angels outside that they are at home. It would be as hard often to convince many of these young men that their attentions and comments are not particularly pleasing to the ladies who have to walk past the places where they congregate.

AN ENFANT TERRIBLE.

The Paster's Presence Awed Her, but She

who have to walk past the places where they congregate."

"Have you convenient any of the letters that complain of corner loungers?"

"We do not keen them," answered Deputy Commissioner Farrell. "They are forwarded immediately to the Captains of the precingts in which are carried on the doings referred to. The police take the best means of suppressing the practices, but they are not omnipotent and the disease breaks out on new spots, where it does not long remain, however, until the neverfailing remedy is applied."

Police Inspector Mackellar said that complaints were many, and he hinted that some people were unreasonable with the policemen who performed their duties in accordance with instructions.

"Young men," said he, "are of the idea." Harriet Beecher Stowe's son, Rev. Charles 3. Stowe, of Hartford, Conn., met with an experience the other evening which com-pletely nonplussed htm, says the Chicago Herald, who performed their duties in accordance with instructions.

"Young men," said he, "are of the idea sometimes that they only prerogatives denied to others. It is usual to have complaints from parents about over-officionsness on the part of the police, but when these complaints are investigated it is soon discovered that the police have simply kept the young men away from corners in compliance with the wishes of store-keepers whose business was being injured or in obedience to orders from superiors who have reasons to believe that the loungers insultyoung laties." Herald.

One evening quite recently he dined with Mrs. J. W. Boardman, proprietress of the Hotel Woodruff. Visiting Mrs. Boardman is a cute little niece about five years old. She is a a cute little niece about five years old. She is a regular chatterbox and makes many bright remarks during the day. Fearing lest the child would astonish the preacher by some outlandish saying her sunt warned her to keep mum during the dinner.

The admonition was listened to with awe, and at the table the little one scarcely dared look at Mr. Stowe, not wishing to commit a supposed sin. While the servant was absent from the room, the little girl noticed there was no butter on her small pink dish.

She didn't mind holding her tongue, but to ialies."
A lounger from Boston rested on his cane and disp'ayed his shape at the entrance to the Brooklyn Bridge the other day. The judicial opinion of loungers was given by Justice Petterson, who remarked:
"It may be proper to try to 'mash' young her throst, she said:

"Dear pastor, won's you please, for Christ's sake, rass the butter?"

Hev. Mr. Slowe never received such a shock. He leaned over in his chair to pick up his packin, which, of course, had not fatten. Mrs. Heardman must at that moment arrange a window-curtain, and other guests were suddenly troubled with a friendly cough. Little Mabel, self-satisfied that she had done the proper caper, was the only one at the table who could positively prove that she was alive.

STOLEN RHYMES. Plowers vs. Flour. A blithe young lover, with face serene, He calls on his affections' queen. Though he has equandered all his pay In buying tickets for the play, Still, "Love is young and the world is gay." —A sudden look of discoutent Comes o'er his face. His visage lowers; Comes o'er his face. His visag Too late he recollects he's sent No flowers.

Time has rolled on. They're wedded now.
And as he mops his furrowed brow
And wonders how he'll pay his rent
(Or will the landlord be content
To take his note at 10 per cent?)
Says she: 'Our credit's at an end;
The groceryman was awful sour,
And sware without the cash he'd send
No flour.'

—Terra Haula Erroses. -Terre Haute Express.

Grief in Brilliant Garb. September strews the woodland o'er
With many a brilliant color:
The world is brighter than before—
Why should our hearts be duller?
Sorrow and the scarlet leaf.
Sad thoughts and sunny weather.
Ah, me! this glory and this grief
Agree not well together.
THOMAS W. PARSONS.

Separation. Two friends, and walking side by side. Yet severed by abyeses wide; Two lovers, chiding stern delay, And longing for the bridal day; Two wedded, ontwardly so fair-Aiss, that true love was not there! Two parted, disagreeing; these Are mysteries of fate's decrees.

In Quarantine. One short week since I had not thought
That I could ever be by aught
So sore afficted;
I case the house within whose walls
She is, and may not stop, my calls
Are interdicted.

Alas, how fifth is our bliss!
I may not go to her, and this
By her own order;
Here is the note she wrote it in—
Tell she; to me who long have been
Her heart's sole warder.

The grand stone steps I mount no more— I may not enter as before, And olse her to me; Save for a dim light in her room. The house is silent, wrapped in gloom; I, too, am gloomy.

Not that she loves me less, although
I'm exiled to my studio
And long-shunned easels;
But her small brother (poor dear lad)
Has get what I have never had,
Hang it!—the measles!
—Drake's Magazine.

HOW CHINESE YOUNGSTERS ARE FILLED WITH ERRONEOUS IMPRESSIONS.

Chinese Native Incincerity Most Characteristically Manifested by Their Demeaner Towards Children, Who Are Taught to Be Insincere Without Consciousness of It Either on Their Own or Their Teachers' Part-They're Very Prececious.

"One of the ways in which the native insincerity of the Chinese is most characteristic ally manifested." says the North China Daile. News, "is the demeanor towards children, who are taught to be insincere, without consciousness of the fact either on their own part or on the part of those who teach them. Before he is old enough to talk, and when he can attach only the vaguest significance to the words which he hears, a child is told that unless he does as he is bid some terrific object, said to be concealed in the sleeve of a grown person, will eatch him.

"It is not uncommon for foreigners to be put in the place of the unknown monster, and this fact alone would be sufficient to account for all the bad words which we frequently hear applied to ourselves. Why should not children who may have been affrighted with our vague terrors when they were young hoot us in the streets as soon as they have grown large enough to perceive that we are not dangerous, but only ridic-

The carter who is appoved by urchins in "The carter who is annoyed by urchins in the street who yell at his loreign passenger, abouts to them that he shall capture several of them, the them on behind his cart and carry them off. The toatman, under like provocation, contents himself with the observation that he shall pour scalding water upon them. The expression, 'l'il beat you: l'il kill you,' are understood by a Chinese child of some experience so constitute an elipsis for 'stop that.'

We have heard of a little foreign miss of tender years whose association with a Chinese tender years whose association with a Chinese nurse had wrought its natural effect, so that when the child was removed from her cradle at a time which did not commend itself to at a time which did not commend itself to her feelings, she compendiously observed in Chinese, 'with injurious pleonasm,' 'Pli gore you, I'll kick you, I'll rail at you, I'll beat you, I'll kill you!' 'I twas in view of the results of such as education as this that M. Huc, whose lan-guage is not, perhaps, too strong for the facts, comments upon the characteristics of tacts, comments upon the characteristics of Chinese children in words which may recall the exclamation of De Quincey: 'What must it be to be a Chinese child!'

"The Chinese have in general so much precocity of judgment and intelligence that they are capable of attending to serious business at an age when European children think only of play; and though somewhat inclined to morteleses and melangholy the invanile.

to moroseness and melancholy, the juvenile inhabitants of the Celestial Empire are early accustomed to the realities of life. "The children of the great towns soon learn to understand commercial affairs, industrial speculations and, moreover, all the knaveres of stock jobbing, and the children of the country know perfectly well how much a field of rice will produce, and can calculate neid of rice will produce, and can calculate as any grown man the profits derivable from the culture of the mulberry or the tea plant.

'These little materialists appear to have somewhat withered hearts, and are by no means remarkable for candor or simplicity; they have seldom any aspirations towards generous ideas or noble sentiments, and one may see in the very look of their narrow, oblive even the migration of regards quartifity lique eyes the indications of roguery, cupidity and cunuing. "It should be added that what M. Hue says of the precocious development of Chinese children is by no means so applicable to those from the country, taken as a class, as those born in the city. Many of the former grow up without ever having come in contact with an idea worth mentioning, and in their later development they produce those perfec-specimens of 'intellectual turbity' of which we have already spoken.

OPENING THE FALL SEASON.

findsome Show by One of Harlem's

Lending Houses. was no butter on her small pink dish.

She didn't mind holding her tongue, but to eat bread without butter—that would never do. She took a survey of the table, and lo said behold, the butter—dish was directly in front of the preacher. Wistfully she gazed at both for a few seconds. Never in her brief existence did she appear so pensive. Then gathering all her courage and clearing her throat, she said:

"Dear pastor, won't you please, for Christ's transfer of shoppers filled August & Minzie's handsomely decorated dry goods store, at 2284 Third avenue to-day. The Fall opening was the attraction, and the patrons of the enterprising firm gathered in force to inspect the array of seasonable novelties which littered the counters and shelves. Two new departments, house-keeping linens and boys clothing, were the most attractive to the mothers and housewives. The clothing department, occupying an entire fluor, filled with every conceivable style of Throngs of shoppers filled August & Minzie's firm gathered in force to inspect the array of seasonable novelties which littered the counters and shelves. Two new departments, house-keeping linens and boys clothing, were the most attractive to the mothers and housewives. The clothing department, occupying an entire floor, filled with every conceivable style of garment for youngsters west, was especially attractive, and the big piece of patch cloth sewed in the pockets of every pair of diminutive breeches seemed to add merit to the stock in the eyes of the careful matrons.

In the men's furnishing goods departments the firm exhibited many new modes in neckwear marked at prices that were invitations to purchase. In their other lines the firm made an equally attractive showing. The opening will be continued to-morrow and on Wednesday.

Bobby (trying to be funny)-Supposing I should steal him some night and take him to the pound?
Mrs. Edgeways—I don't believe the poundkeeper would be entirely sure which one of you to keep. No Such Word as Faft. | From the New York Weekly.] American Editor (in a town which has been swept by fire and flood)—Was anything saved from the wreck? Foreman -- I have dug out a few handfuls of type, some boot blacking and a bundle of wrapping paper.

Good. Tell the newsboys we'll have an

Its superior excellence proven in millions of nesses for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Indexed by the hands of the Great Universities as the Strongest Fures and such Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Fowder des not leasthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Fowder des not coutsin Ammunia, Line, or Alum. Bold only it Oans. PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.

MOST PERFECT MADE

CHICAGO,